ELECTIONS RUN OFF TODAY

VOTE TODAY ON SPARDI GRAS, REVELRIES SPLIT

In co-operation with the Student Council, the Spartan Daily is running a special ballot in today's paper to test student opinion on the question of divorcing Revelries, annual student production, from Spardi Gras, spring carnival.

The test ballot is on the feature page. After answering the questions on it, students are asked to turn it in to the contributions box in the Publications office, room 17. The separation of the two activities does not necessitate that they be held in different quarters of the college year, but that they will not be run together on the same date.

Spardi Gras could be climaxed with a costume ball instead of Revelries as in former years, it was suggested. It is believed that the musical production is enough of an attraction in itself to merit a separate showing.

Moritz To Talk On China Today, 12

Paul Moritz, nationally known lecturer and speaker, will present a series of personal experiences and friendships established during his recent work in China at 12 o'clock today in the Morris Dailey. Moritz is sponsored by the World Student Christian Federation and has for several weeks been on tour of the colleges and universities of the Pacific coast. He graduated from college himself a relatively short time ago and since then has spent most of his time in China, studying the endeavors of Chinese students for education and for the reconstruction of their country.

All students are invited to attend and may bring their lunches.

Coast Guard Films Shown

Moving pictures on the duties and functions of the United States Coast Guard will be shown at 2 o'clock today in the Little Theater. The pictures will supplement a talk by Lieutenant D. T. Adams, U.S.C.G., in anticipation of the annual competitive examination to be held May 14 and 15.

From those passing the examination cadets are appointed and are sent to the Coast Guard Academy located at New London, Conn. Cadets are paid at the rate of $780 a year including a ration valued at $500 per day while under instruction. In addition, cadets receive the necessary medical and surgical attention.

Graduates of the Academy are commissioned as ensigns in the Coast Guard with the rank and pay of ensigns in the Navy or second lieutenants in the Army. Promotions and pay thereafter parallel those of the corresponding ranks in the Army and Navy.

According to Dean Pitman this training is equivalent to that received at a first rate engineering school.

Delta Phi Upsilon Holds Founder's Day Fest Tonight

Founder's day will be celebrated by members of Delta Phi Upsilon, national honorary Kindergarten-Primary fraternity, when they attend a formal banquet in the Silver room of the St. Claire hotel at 6:30 tonight.

Marjorie Test Loomis, of Palo Alto, who was one of the founders of this fraternity, will be the guest speaker and members of the Epsilon chapter of San Francisco State college will share guest honors, according to Alice Good, reporter of the campus chapter.

Ardis Jasper, president, will preside as toastmistress.

Others attending from San Jose State college are the Misses Emily Devore, adviser; Mabel Crumby, and Mrs. Lillian Gray, all instructors in the Department of education.

RUNNING PRESENTS PIANO RECITAL TUESDAY EVENING

Specializing in the work of modern composers, Joseph Running, new member of the music faculty, will present a piano recital next Tuesday evening at 8:15 in the Little Theater.

Running will open the program by playing a Corelli Pastorale. This will be followed by Beethoven's Sonata in A flat major, three compositions by Brahms and two preludes by Debussy.

He will also play Chopin's Ballade in G minor and "The White Peacock" by Griffes, the only American composer whose work will be presented on the program.

Running, who is the director of the A Cappella Choir, is a graduate of St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota. He has also studied at the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music.

No admission fee will be charged for the recital and the public is invited to attend.

A.W.A. CABINET MEETS TODAY

Cabinet members of AWA will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Student Union for informal pictures to be included in La Torre, Jerrie Jurras, president of the group, announced Wednesday. Merging of AWA and WAA to form the Associated Women's Activities has brought about some changes in the allotted space in the yearbook, Miss Jurras explained.

This year informal pictures will be taken of AWA members and of the various activities in which all women participate throughout the year. These will be included as well as the usual formal pictures on the pages formerly devoted to both women's organizations.

GILLIS WILL ANNOUNCE POLL RESULTS MONDAY

Results of the drama poll held Wednesday and Thursday to choose a modern comedy for the San Jose Players' second production this quarter will be published Monday.

Voting has not yet been completed by out-of-town season book holders, Speech department head Hugh Gillis announces.

The Players, campus dramatic group, will present the opening play of the winter quarter, Strindberg's tragedy, "The Father", January 30 and 31 in the Little Theater.

Upperclass Mixer Scheduled For Next Friday Night

The Junior-Senior mixer, quarterly get-together of the two upper classes, will be held Friday, January 17, according to Leroy Hill, chairman of the senior committee in charge of the mixer.

Directing entertainment for the event, arranged as a sport affair, is Lew Daniels. Jean Ellsworth heads the music committee and Lois Silver is in charge of securing patrons for the mixer.

Dancing, refreshments, and entertainment will be featured at the mixer, according to Hill.

HAZEN ELECTED RADIO PREXY

Edward Hazen was elected president of the Radio Club of San Jose State college at a recent meeting of the group.

George Kubiski was elected vice-president; Betty Holsanbake, secretary-treasurer; and Leslie Leigh, technician.

At the meeting, the club decided to meet every other Wednesday evening and disperse with the noon gatherings. At next Wednesday's meeting there will be a speaker and all are invited to attend, according to Hazen.

Y.W.C.A. ELECTS NEW CHAIRMAN

Three new chairmen of committees of the college YWCA were elected at a meeting of the groups recently, according to Claire Harris, secretary of the "Y".

Margaret Watson and Geraldine Planchon will take over the duties of chairman of the "Philosophy of Living" group which will present for this quarter's schedule a series of discussions on vocational guidance and men and women relationships. A meeting of the organizations will be in the YWCA clubroom of the Student Center Wednesday at 4 o'clock.

Frances N. Fischer will fulfill the position of chairman of the Music-Arts committee, Mrs. Harris stated.

MAJORITY VOTE NEEDED UNDER NEW SYSTEM; POLLS OPEN 8 TO 5

Run-off elections will be held in all classes today to determine finally who shall hold offices in the four groups, it was decided by council members yesterday.

While some candidates in the election race won a majority of the votes cast, many were so close that a second vote is considered necessary by the student council.

Not realizing that a majority was necessary for election, the Spartan Daily yesterday gave the names of those who received a simple plurality as being elected.

Under the new system of class elections, a majority vote is essential for election to any office. In many of the contests Wednesday no such majority was received by any candidate, making a run-off vote necessary.

In the senior class, Frank Kalam and Bill Sellers are still in the race for sergeant-at-arms. Leroy Hill conceded yesterday to Jus Lundquist, obviating the necessity for a run-off for that office. Harry Saunders gained the presidency and Signa Shaw was named secretary-treasurer.

MOORE ELECTED TREASURER

Mert Crockett and Tom Griffen are still on the ballot for president of the juniors; Bob Hamill and Lois Silver for vice-president; Jean Ellsworth and Roberta Hobson for secretary; Bob Nagel and Joe Marelich for sergeant-at-arms. James Moore was elected treasurer.

In the sophomore class, Tom Taylor and Denny Morrissey were elected and there will be a run-off between Nina D'Anna and Ruth Bishop for secretary-treasurer.

COMPLETE RE-VOTE

Freshmen face a full schedule of voting. Allan Isaksen and Orlyn Gire are still on the ballot for president; Virginia Harley and George Coles for vice-president; Jane Reed and Marty Taylor for secretary; Rex Gardner, Frank Thompson, and Ed Davies for treasurer.

Balloting will be held again in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium, beginning at 8 a.m. The same people who worked on the election board Wednesday are asked by the council to help again today.

SENIOR BOARD

The senior board includes: Florence Scudero, 8 to 9; Ruby Freitas, 9-10; Harry Graham, 10-11; Mary Jane Kirby, 11-12; Florence (Continued on Page 4)

WORKERS NEEDED ON 'THE FATHER'

All students interested in signing up for stage and technical work on "The Father" are asked to contact Hugh Gillis, head of the Speech department, or Peter Mingrone, Speech instructor, as soon as possible.

Students are needed for assistance in costumes, props, make-up, and set construction for the first play this quarter, to be given January 30 and 31 in the Little Theater.

Ushers are also needed for the performance.

KSJS Applications For Membership Accepted Today

Written applications for membership to KSJS, Radio Speaking society, will be accepted today, Monday, and Tuesday in the Speech office, room 159, and oral tryouts will be held Thursday, January 16, in room 51, declares Verne Hall Jr., vice-president of the group. Any student interested may participate in these tests.

Written applications must contain the following information in the student's handwriting, Hall states.

1. Chief interest in radio work, and reason for applying for membership in KSJS.
2. How much free time will you have to participate in the society's activities?
3. What experience have you had in radio work?
4. What speech courses have you completed, and of what other organizations are you a member?

Parts for the oral tryouts will be available in the reserve room of the library Monday. Students may ask at the desk for copies of the required material.

"We are planning an active program this quarter and intend to do some actual broadcasting from professional studios," Hall says.

Department Head Exhibits Painting

Marques Reitzel, head of the Art department, is exhibiting an oil painting named "Redwood Temple", as a result of a recent invitation from that institution, states Louis La Barbera, Art laboratory assistant.

Before the display closes on January 31, all paintings will be judged, and Reitzel is eligible for part of the $1,500 which will be divided among the winners.

Reitzel's work was painted in the Los Gatos environs and depicts an old redwood stump with new growth sprouting from it.

Lost Articles Available In Gym

Women students who left shoes, sweaters, and other articles of wearing apparel in their PE lockers last quarter may secure them from Mrs. Wallace in the Women's gym.

A Thank You To Phi Mu

Tuesday night it was my pleasure to sit in on the concert given in the Little Theater by Phi Mu chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, the national music honor sorority.

I left the Theater very much impressed at the talent which lies in the Music department of this college. That group which presented the concert represents only a very small part of the Music department of this college, but the quality of the work presented would make one believe that it was the entire Music department. And I'm sure that the others who filled the Little Theater felt the same way.

There are many in this college who put out good hard-earned money every year to hear Marian Anderson and other nationally-known stars in concerts at the Civic auditorium. I grant that their money is well spent, but if they happened to miss the Phi Mu program they missed hearing something approaching the talent of the more famous stars, and without an admission charge.

The assurance with which the students performed, especially the soloists, spoke well for the training which they receive from the Music department's corps of efficient teachers.

And so to one of the teachers herself, Lydia Boothby, who performed with the harp; to the students, Mary Sanfilippo, and Wilda Enos, pianists; and Delphia Phillips, soprano; and to the others, Jean Brier, Margaret Grillet, Margaret Thomas, Ellen Saunders and Jean Hopper who took part in the chamber music numbers, we say orchids to you and thanks for a swell evening of entertainment.

—Frizzi.

Co-operative Houses Pass Milestones

Growing from a handful of students to an enrollment of several thousand, there has developed a housing problem at San Jose State college that always accompanies a growing institution.

To meet these difficulties a housing committee was formed to look into bettering the living conditions of students. In 1935 the first women's co-operative house, the Mary George, was established. Three years later the first men's co-operative house appeared, Eckert Hall.

Since those days, living co-operatively has made great strides at San Jose State college. Three more houses have been formed, making the student's stay at the college cheaper and more comfortable.

This month, Eckert Hall celebrates its third anniversary, while Spartan Hall, other men's dwelling, honors its first year of existence.

Our housing conditions are still in need of improvement, but with the growth of co-operative establishments, conditions will be greatly improved.

We salute these co-operative houses, and we pay tribute to the men and organizations responsible for their being.

—Healey.

Hammon's Helpful Hints

Today Wendell Outlines Proper Form For Letters

Writing a Thrust and Parry is to most people quite a task, especially when they must restrict themselves to a limit of 250 words and must sign their names.

Probably the second requirement is the hardest; especially after slinging mud with all one's heart it is hard to sign your name. There is one alternative known to the writing profession, and that is the device known as the "Nom de Plume", or "pen name". A few of the more famous of these pen names are Mark Twain, George Eliot, and O. Henry (not the candy bar).

So, armed with the above information, it ought to be easy to think up a name not publicly known. It should be easy to restrict one's self to a limit of 250 words—one can do almost anything when he is in a pinch. The best method would be to write all you can, then cut out all of the extra words such as: the, and, of, or, so, well, but, however, it, by, to, be, that, in, all, out, and with and so forth.

Here is what to expect of this style of literature after it has gone through the cutting process:

Dear Thrust-Parry:
Want write letter telling what thing Communists, Fascists, Nazis. Peoples stink don't belong United States, send countries come from.

Thrust Parry:
Doctor Poytress, teacher economics, San Jose State college: Please give grade work hard quarter; trying find classroom, where? Truly, COOKIE.

Thrust and Parry

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Several times I have seen (and experienced) some narrow escapes when cars parked on San Carlos street backed from their spaces into the traffic. Invariably this is due to the right angle parking system, making it almost impossible to see oncoming traffic.

Wouldn't it be a good idea to have car spaces marked off by paint stripes DIAGONALLY, thus taking care of two evils at one time—the "1½ space" parker, and the "try and miss me backer-upper"?

The cost would be negligible, and the benefits great, I believe. Yours truly, ERIC STORM.

Contributions longer than 200 words will neither be published nor returned, regardless of their nature, unless special arrangements are made.

● HARRY GRAHAM Nothing Sacred

INSTEAD of inventing meaningless terms and phrases, the psychologists of this apathetic school would do well to study carefully the strange mental disease that strikes students dumb at the mention of a school election. There certainly must be a reason, however subtle, for the sudden lethargy on the part of students who are actively in favor of a candidate or a proposal until someone mentions "election". Having served for the first time on a school election board, I am in a position and have at hand information that leads me to prescribe a sure cure, a sort of "snake oil", for election apathy.

There are too many elections. The dramatists beseech students who still don't know the difference between "Twelfth Night" and "Ten Nights in a Barroom" to vote for a play that will eventually be produced anyway. The individual classes implore their members, who cheer wildly at each candidate mentioned, to "come on out an' vote!" The members quit cheering.

And now the Revelries committee, who ought to be able to figure out a simple change of dates as well as the next guy, decides to ask for a "popular" vote. In order to reduce production costs, we of the Daily have decided to have the printers set up one single ballot, with "Yes" and "No" on it, and simply change from day to day the title of the ballot to fit whatever particular election happens to be appealing to student sentiment at the moment.

Table of Contents

By IRENE MELTON

For the benefit of those individuals who are as yet uninformed about the revolutionary ASCAP-radio broadcasting feud now upsetting our favorite programs, I recommend the article in the December 30 issue of "Life" magazine.

A trifle outdated by the most recent developments in the situation, this discussion of the fight arising when the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers wanted to raise radio's license payments for 1941 to $6,500,000 presents facts which, although brief, are highly informative.

IT'S MONEY TROUBLE

The conflict, primarily over money, resulted when ASCAP increased the radio license fees and issued a new plan for collection of money through blanket licenses based on the total incomes of the stations. The broadcasters wanted to pay only according to the amount of ASCAP music actually used.

The Broadcast Music Inc., a new organization, sprang into being at this point, backed by the broadcasting industry and the powerful radio chains.

As far as most of us are concerned, the nights are made bleak by the absence of such favorites as "Java Jive", "Summertime", and "Night and Day".

THERE IS STILL COMEDY

Consolation for radio fans lies in the opportunity for new gags given comedians, although the latter are exploring this new field with noticeable hesitancy.

Pity the unfortunate Kate Smith Hour. Irving Berlin is a loyal ASCAP member, and "God Bless America" joined a million other songs in broadcasting oblivion.

After all, it's not so bad. "Frenesi" isn't ASCAP.

Fall Quarter Athletic Awards Given

FOOTBALL, WATER POLO, SOCCER STARS ALL GET RECOGNITION FOR FEATS

One hundred and seven athletes and eleven managers who participated in varsity and freshman football, soccer, and varsity and freshman water polo during the fall quarter, will receive awards, when the list submitted by Graduate Manager Frank Corroll was approved by the student council.

Still under consideration by the student council is the awarding of special recognition in the form of gold balls for the championship football and soccer teams.

FROSH QUINTET PLAYS HOST TO KING CITY FIVE

Corrollmen Seek Sixth Win Tonight

Paced by center Bill Foote, who to date has tallied 64 points in eight games, San Jose State's freshman basketball quintet will endeavor to annex its sixth win of the current season tonight when it plays host to the King City Red Devils as a preliminary to the varsity contest in Spartan Pavilion. Tipoff time for the prelim is slated for 6:30.

SCORING RACE
Foote's 64 digits are tops in scoring to date and he has twice as many as his nearest competitor. Harold Sontag is second with 22 points. Following Sontag in the race for individual scoring honors, are Dave Bishop, his running mate at forward, with 27, and Paul Borg, substitute forward, with 26 tallies.

Fresh from its 56-24 win over the Exchange Linen Service, Corroll's aggregation will be in tip-top condition for this evening's tussle. Sontag's return to form and Foote's steadiness are expected to play important roles in the game.

STARTING UNIT
San Jose's probable starting lineup will be Harold Sontag and Dave Bishop at forwards; Bill Foote at the pivot post; and Madison and Hodgins at the guards' position.

SWEATERS AND POOPS LEAD IN INTRAMURAL

In the first round of play in the intramural basketball tourney, Sweatt's Sweaters trounced the Cellar Rats 37-14, and the Poops defeated the Seven Uppers in an overtime period 22-20.

The second round of play for the Tuesday-Thursday league will be played on Tuesday, January 14, with the Atom Smashers and Mud Holes playing one game and the Aces and Poops squaring off in the other game.

Monday the Monday-Wednesday league will begin play with the Hotshots playing the Finks and the Miracles, the Seven Dwarfs.

BOXING HEAD

Dee Portal, boxing coach, is a busy man these days, what with completing arrangements for the novice boxing tournament and grooming his varsity boxers for a tough boxing schedule against some of the coast's best teams.

COACH PORTAL RELEASES NEW BOXING SKED

The toughest slate in the history of San Jose State college leather pushers faces the local boxers this year, the schedule just released by Coach Dee Portal shows.

Toughest opponents going against the Spartans in the next few months will be the University of Idaho, Oregon State, Gonzaga university, and the competition at the National tournament at Pennsylvania State in March.

The schedule, as released by Portal and approved by President T. W. MacQuarrie is as follows:

FRESHMAN BOXING SCHEDULE 1941

Jan. 22, 23, 24—Novice Tournament.

Feb. 28—San Jose Frosh vs. San Francisco J. C. at San Jose.

Mar. 6 and 7—Northern California Freshman and Junior College Conference at San Jose.

Varsity Reserve Schedule 1941

Varsity Boxing Schedule 1941

Jan. 29-30—All College Tournament at San Jose.

Feb. 13—San Jose State vs. USF at San Jose.

Clain, Parker Snow, Donald Thomson, Dave Thomson, and Victor Hugo. Manager: Davis Murdock.

Captain Carruth, Carter Brilliant In 36-32 Defeat

San Jose's varsity basketball team was "cold" last night when it went up against the College of Pacific Tiger and lost its first game in four starts, 36-32, in the Stockton gym.

Playing on the "flooded" floor that caused postponement of the game from Tuesday night, Coach Walt McPherson's cagers started out as if they meant business and kept

WATER POLO MADE MAJOR SPORT BY COACH WALKER

Six Years Of Play See Few Defeats

This is the second of two articles on Coach Charley Walker, swimming and water polo coach at San Jose State college.

In the year 1935 water polo was started at San Jose as a minor competitive sport and has since grown to be ranked among the top major sports of the school.

GOOD RECORD

Due to the coaching and steady building up of material, Walker has increased his wins from six in 1935 to 13 in 1940. In six years of competition Walker's teams have won 91 games, lost 47, and tied 4.

In the year 1935, due to lack of experience, the team won only six games, while losing 11. However, they came back the next year and won 12 games, losing only seven and tying two.

FOUR LOSSES

The next year found the Spartans on top of the Bay Cities Water Polo league, winning 19 games and losing but four. Stanford and California being the only teams to defeat San Jose both times to give them the four losses.

Again in 1938 the Walkermen won the championship, winning 23 games, while losing only six. Also this year the Freshman squad won 17 straight games before losing their final game to a strong Olympic Club "B" team. In both 1937 and 1938 the Spartlets captured first place in the Bay Cities Water Polo "B" league.

IMPRESSIVE WINS

Feb. 19—San Jose State vs. Oregon State at Corvallis.

Feb. 21—San Jose State vs. University of Idaho at Moscow.

Feb. 22—San Jose State vs. Gonzaga at Spokane.

Mar. 8—San Jose State vs. Cal Aggies at Davis.

Mar. 20-21—Pacific Coast Conference at Sacramento.

Mar. 27-28-29—National Tournament at Penn. State, Penn.

astride the Pacific outfit off and on until the closing moments.

Captain Hal Carruth, one of the best men on the floor, put the Spartans into a fast lead by tanking two field goals in the first five minutes of play to give San Jose a 4-0 lead. Carruth was the hottest of the Spartans, tying Bob Henning, 6-foot 5-inch Tiger center for high point honors. Both Carruth and Henning swished in 11 points for their team.

After the early Spartan attack had caused the Tigers worry the Pacific squad settled down to play steady basketball and leave the floor at half time with a 21-19 lead.

At the start of the second half Pacific began to throw in baskets from all angles and before San Jose could get started had stretched its lead to 27-19.

CARRUTH HOT

At this point Captain Carruth began to get hot again and with some aid from Dick Uhrhammer and Stu Carter evened up the score at 27-27.

It was during this San Jose rally that Uhrhammer, leading Spartan scorer for the season thus far, sank his only two points of the ball game. Uhrhammer just couldn't get going last night, many of his shots teasing the ring but never falling into the net.

The final minutes of the game had the fans on their collective feet, with San Jose holding a 31-29 lead for a few brief moments. But Pacific put on the crusher in the pinch, and paced by Henning, a boy registered from San Jose, and another Pacific star, Kenny Rogers, pulled away from the Spartans.

CARTER GOOD

Little Stu Carter, second in line of San Jose's diminutive "giants", put on a sparkling exhibition while in the game. Carter heralded his advent into the lineup in the first half by netting two field goals and a free throw in less than two minutes to put the Spartans into a 15 to 6 lead.

Carter followed Carruth in the San Jose point scoring with six. Johnny Allen and Bert Robinson, guards, turned in good floor games with Allen adding two field goals to the San Jose total.

Tonight Coach McPherson brings his team back to Spartan pavilion against the Moffett Field quintet, an outfit expected to give San Jose an exciting engagement. The game gets under way at 8:15.

STUDENTS GIVEN 'THE AIR' IN NEW LIBRARY

What's this modern generation coming to, anyhow, is a question worth asking after one realizes all of the various processes used to purify the air for the new library.

Every type of the latest machinery that it is possible to secure is being used to keep the air pure and at a temperature conducive to studying.

Before reaching the inside of the building the air will be brought through a purifying machine that will remove all germs and unpleasant odors.

After being purified the air goes through a pre-cooling process and heated to a stated temperature. After going through this procedure the air reaches the library through large fans.

The air will be controlled to any temperature by automatic controls. For example: the air is set for a temperature of 70 degrees and after the temperature reaches this point, the air conditioning machine goes off. Should it reach a temperature too high or low or humid, the conditioner will automatically start up.

Miss Helen Dimmick, Dean of women, was guest of honor, and Juanita Hadfield, president of the group, officiated at the installation.

The five new members are: Elda Button, Elinor Peaslee, Lois Bohnett, Barbara Fulton, and Lois Barton.

On the junior board, in hourly shifts from 8 a.m. are: Bob Nagel, open; Wilbur Scott, Ruth Wool, Christine Mansfield, Don True, and Lois Ellithorpe.

Sophomore and freshman names have not been made available. Those working on the boards are asked to help count the votes at 5 o'clock.

place in both divisions of the league, bowing only to the strong Olympic Club teams. In the year 1939 the Spartans invaded Southern California and very thoroughly trounced a strong Fullerton junior college team, who is coached by the Dean of water polo coaches, Jimmy Smith, by a score of 7-0, and defeated Cal Tech to the tune of 11-0.

In the six years of play Coach Walker's water polo squads have won almost twice as many games as they have lost, which gives them a good percentage and puts San Jose up with the other strong water polo teams of the Pacific states.

NOTICE

The steering committee of the Camp Leadership club will meet in S228 today at noon.

COMMERCE GROUP PLANS INITIATION MONDAY NIGHT

Informal initiation of pledges will be the main business of Monday night's meeting of Pi Omega Pi, commerce education honor society, to take place at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. Guy C. George, instructor in the commerce department and member of the group.

New members to be initiated are Arnold Mehlhoff, Leon Torrey, Margery Green, Angela Giulii, and John Hermsdorf.

The organization is affiliated with the national professional business education society of the same name, and members are selected on a basis of scholastic achievement. Rupert Kendall is president, and Milburn Wright, faculty advisor, for the group.

KSFO PLAYS HOST TO STATE DEBATE TEAM TOMORROW

Members of the San Jose State college debate team will meet San Francisco State college Saturday morning at 10:30 over radio station KSFO.

William Booth and Mariano Guardino will take the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That civil liberties in the United States should be curbed in time of war crises."

The formal presentation of the negative and affirmative sides of the subject will take up the first 15 minutes of the program. The last quarter hour will be led by Owen M. Broyles, social science department, as impromptu discussion.

Co-ops Celebrate Anniversaries

Two of San Jose State college's co-operative houses are celebrating anniversaries this month. They are the men's co-ops, Eckert Hall and Spartan Hall.

The halls are run on a wholly co-operative basis with everyone sharing in work and expenses. Eckert Hall, established in 1938, is celebrating its third birthday, while Spartan Hall celebrates its first.

Eckert Hall residents plan a birthday dance on January 25 to celebrate their anniversary.
